

Bridge to the Future

Bridge to the Future: A Creative and Collaborative Build Challenge with a Powerful Symbolic Payoff

Bridge to the Future is a visually stunning and highly collaborative team building experience designed to align your group around shared goals—by literally building a bridge to represent your organization's future.

Using only cardboard and duct tape, teams design, construct, and decorate bridge segments that reflect company values, mission, or aspirations. In the end, all teams come together to assemble one large, walkable structure that can hold the weight of the entire group—creating a powerful metaphor for shared success and support.

Program Agenda

After a welcome and goal-setting introduction, teams are formed and given their cardboard and duct tape supply to be used as their principal building materials. Then, the building phase begins, including

- Role delegation within teams for cardboard cutters, column designers, decorators, and builders
- Project management meetings among team leaders to cross-share information on bridge segments
- Bridge segment planning, assembly, and decoration

Once the bridge is completed, the entire group will walk onto the bridge to prove its structural integrity and to pose for memorable photos.

Clients Talk About this Program

They LOVED It! Our teams really had fun working together to get the bridge built. Getting everyone to follow instructions was an important teambuilding aspect of your extremely well organized Bridge to the Future event. We will be reaching out for future events since we had such a great time this time around.
