

Trivia Blast Live!

Trivia Blast Live! puts your group's trivia knowledge to the test as two or more teams compete simultaneously, with clues delivered in the form of trivia questions by an energetic host.

If your company is looking to bond employees between meetings or for an entertainment program after dinner, we can design the perfect event for your team, based on your group size, allotted time, and desired outcome.

We utilize state-of-the-art podiums complete with microphones, face-off player positions, extra-large buttons, scoring, game visuals and sound effects, with multiple buzzers ensuring everyone is fully engaged!

Questions are designed to cater to domestic or international groups, with topics such as World History, Sports, Entertainment, Pop Culture, and more. Guided by a team captain and supported by the audience's energy and enthusiasm, one team's knowledge will catapult them to the winner's circle.

For groups of 100 or more participants, an audience response polling system is used to allow each team to answer multiple-choice trivia questions. This determines the order in which the teams are invited to the main stage for a face-off round.

For an exciting twist, incorporate your own information and custom questions to add training to the fun. This format can be used to evaluate the retention of information, and reinforce specific goals and your organization's mission and vision. You can even add a charitable component to make the fun even more meaningful for your group!

Trivia Blast Live! is the perfect program to motivate your employees or serve as your evening entertainment event. We bring all of the high-spirited fun and excitement of a live, television game show to your event.

Clients Talk About this Program

Our Corporate Game Show Mania was extremely organized. The game was fun and our group enjoyed the activities. Some folks kept on going several times to participate. It was a good team building idea to put our teams together based on the month they are born.
