Virtual Are You Smarter Than a 6th Grader?

You might think you're smarter than a 5th grader, but are you smarter than a 6th grader?

You learned a lot in your early years of school, from geography to history, to math, science, and English. But, how much of your elementary school education have you retained as an adult? Well, now you can find out! Test your knowledge and memory with our virtual game show – Are You Smarter Than a 6th Grader?

Based on the popular TV game show, this challenge will pit your wits against the curriculum students follow at the 6th-grade level. You might be surprised to discover much you still remember... and how much you don't!

Program Agenda

This fast-paced virtual game show invites individuals or teams to test their recall of facts they likely learned back in grade school. Using their Apple or Android device as a personal response system, players compete in real time to earn points for correct answers. Faster responses earn more points.

Trivia categories include multiple-choice, true/false, and fill-in-the-blank questions. Some will be laughably easy... others deceptively tricky. Regardless of score, everyone walks away with laughs, friendly competition, and a surprising realization about just how much they forgot (or remembered) from sixth grade.

Perfect for large remote teams or virtual all-hands events, this program is a low-pressure, high-energy way to foster engagement, conversation, and a few good-natured rivalries.

Clients Talk About this Program

Our group had a lot of fun with our Virtual Are You Smarter than a 6th Grader program! The group loved the range of questions. We liked that there were some questions outside of a typical academic curriculum. We had the most fun reminiscing about middle school with our host Russ, who is always so fun to work with! We laughed and sang songs (prompted by certain questions) that reminded us of our middle school years.
