Match Me If You Can – Team Building Game

Looking for a team building event that will have your group laughing and bonding over clever responses and creative thinking? Match Me If You Can is the perfect choice. Based on the classic TV format, this match me if you can game delivers fun, unpredictability, and teamwork in equal measure. It's a match me if you can team building experience that combines humor, quick thinking, and the joy of shared silliness.

Teams must listen carefully, collaborate closely, and come up with the answer most likely to match those of three on-stage contestants. Hilarity ensues as coworkers reveal their wit and weirdness in a safe, competitive setting that brings everyone closer.

Whether you're kicking off a conference or wrapping up a day of training, this is a guaranteed crowd-pleaser that fits groups of all sizes.

Program Agenda

The program begins with a high-energy welcome and introduction by your professional game show host, followed by a warm-up round to get everyone familiar with the game mechanics.

Next, teams are presented with a series of fill-in-the-blank prompts, such as "Crazy Curly was so crazy, he put _____ on his pancakes." Each team discusses and submits their best guess to match the three designated contestants, either pre-selected or chosen live.

As rounds progress, teams earn points for each match they achieve, and the host keeps the energy high with commentary, contestant banter, and laugh-out-loud reactions. Custom questions relevant to your company or industry can be added to make the game even more personalized.

Top-scoring teams move to a final round to determine who knows their colleagues best and who will take home the prize.

You can even add a charitable twist—such as prize donations or matching funds – to give the event a more meaningful impact.
