

Virtual Music and Movies Trivia Blast!

Do you love music? Do you love movies? Can't decide which you'd rather test your knowledge on? How about a little of both?

Our Virtual Music and Movies Trivia Blast combines two great games into one! This program will challenge your team with music trivia spanning the years, and then after intermission, we switch gears to test your movie knowledge. Play as one continuous program or play each act as a standalone challenge with a winner from each round facing off in a bonus "winner take all" round as well!

Your group will experience a full participant, full engagement, interactive virtual game show with state of the art gaming and our engaging and interactive professional hosts. All participants play throughout the game on their apple or android device.

With multiple-choice, true/false, and fill in the blank trivia questions, the faster participants respond correctly, the more points they earn! And, you can customize your program to your group's favorite decade from the '70s, '80s, '90s, and 21st century!

During the music round, players will use album art or rarely-seen photos of bands and singers to identify the artist. By the setlist alone, they will need to identify the band or singer, finish a lyric from a short clip, or identify a song by commonly misheard lyrics. And, you can customize your program to your group's favorite musical decade from the '70s to now!

The movie round will then feature challenges, including identifying the movie from a foreign poster, naming the movie or show by seeing a photo of the cast, or identifying the film by its Oscar-winning song.

Whether each player is a film buff or a music guru, this game offers them the chance to shine. Your group can strike a chord and bring the drama to this fun-filled program!
